COMMENT:

The owner indicates the home needs all new flooring and the home desperately needs to be reinsulated. The furnace and A/C are at the end of their useful life and will need replaced soon. The electric needs evaluated because of frequent popping of breakers. Upon comparing both the current homes on the market and those that have sold, both positively and negatively adding for features, I would place a value on the above mentioned property at $60,000. This is strictly an opinion based on the particulars of the home. This value is based on the home being in at least "Fair" condition.
